

ABORETUM

ar·bo·re·tum

A place where an extensive variety of woody plants are cultivated for scientific, educational, and ornamental purposes.

This exhibition explores the idea of forest. The forest seen as a physical space that alter the senses and places the spectator in a different type of awareness, changes in light, orientation and even perception of the self being are trigger by the ominous aura present in The forest.

In spite of this, the idea of forest shift far beyond form the simple definition of forest, making it a space of thinking, contemplation and experimentation.

The result of this exhibition is a collection of work form 9 artists. Collaborative and individual pieces will be shown as the final project of the first year of the MFA in Art Space and Nature at ECA.
